

Down downs – BH3 Run 24th April

Deliberate Shortcutting – Soft Balls and Roger Hart, shortcutting in full view of the RA, were nominated, but sent off in favour of Kandia Julian who on just his second hash was getting his third down down. He shortcut to the middle of the hash, by virtue of a ride from the hare!

Negligence of duty by hounds – Alina Stanley, for wearing a black top to the Hash; when challenged, she tried to shift the blame onto her father-in-law, Brian ‘soft Balls’ Stanley, whom the RA had planned to punish anyway. But the RA hates a snitch, and so Alina took the down down after all.

Virgins – Aviv Soloman; Ron Herbert; Tony Monaro; Stefan Valent

Hash Heresy – Aviv Soloman, for carrying his cell phone on the run, and pretending to be on call, when the only person allowed to do that is Dick doc, and for using threatening language to the RA – “I’m not afraid of a little ice!”; and so he did have a ice bucket - on his head

Michael Jackson award – David, for zealously marking the trail at every opportunity. He was rewarded with the ‘guiding hand’ of white.

Rule 8 – No Trollops – OnSec Kelian for not remembering to bring the RA his papers; everyone knows he’s lost without his notes. She accepted the punishment with grace.

Negligence of duties by Hares – John da Silva; Tracy Coutts; Sherise Davis – for the lack of spectacular views, too much flower, and too much paper. All agreed that it was a great run, especially the RA and a few select others who cut out a 2km dogleg to get back in well before the rest of the pack!

Hash Shits – Margaret’s daughter, for no other reason other than she opened her mouth first when the RA asked for suggestions as to who should get it.
